THE cult of color has become one of the crazes of the day. The modern woman is extremely artistic in the arrangement of her house and the clothing of her person. She will spend whole days in deciding the exact shade of yellow that will go with the turquoise wall paper and the jewels that will harmonize with her frocks. She knows that her grandmother—the poor dear—must have been a perfect fright in a gown of solferino pink, or a royal blue cashmere. She could never bring herself to sit in a chair of red damask standing upon a green carpet strewn with pink roses. For her the combination would be impossible. Her artistic instincts would revolt.

The clever woman of today makes the best of herself by choosing tints that are in themselves attractive and harmonious, and which will bring out the best points in her hair, eyes, and complexion.

Certainly the cult of beauty includes the cult of color, but it has been left to a coming bride to make a record in the cult of color. Her bridesmaids, twelve in number—have been selected for their blue eyes, and their gowns and hats will be chosen to match. If this idea becomes a fad, the black and brown-eyed beauties will have to take a back seat—at least so far as their services as bridesmaids are concerned—as these duller shades will naturally not be so popular.

The formal announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Agnes Coleman, of New York, and Robert Purves Guthrie, of Edinburgh, Scotland, which took place Wednesday, June 24, comes as a surprise to many of their friends, and tells of the culmination of a romance of the golf links, which began on the Van Cortlandt links, where Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie first met. Their enthusiastic liking for the game soon made them warm friends, and their acquaintances among the other players watched with interest another game in which Dan Cupid played the prominent part. They will all be delighted to hear of their marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie are now on their honeymoon.

Weddings—Engagements.

Bagot-May.

The marriage of Miss Lillian Henry May, sister of Colonel May, of this city, and Lord Bagot, of Staffordshire, England, will take place next Wednesday, in London. George May, of Baltimore, sailed last week for England, to be present at his sister's wedding. The couple will spend their honeymoon in Staffordshire, England, where Lord Bagot has extensive estates.

De Pierrefeu-Tudor.

A recently announced engagement of interest here is that of Miss Elsie Tudor to Comte Alain Dedons de Pierrefeu, of Paris.

Miss Tudor is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tudor, of Beacon Street, Boston. Her great-grandfather, Col. William Tudor, was judge advocate-general in Washington's army during the Revolution. He was an intimate friend of Washington and Adams and also of General Lafayette.

Miss Tudor's grandfather, Frederic Tudor, was a merchant of Boston, who a hundred years ago began the shipment of ice to the tropics, on a plan of his own invention; his ships, for half a century, were known on every sea. Mrs. William Tudor, who was Miss Whitwell, is descended from very old English and Scotch ancestry. Her ancestors, among whom were several governors, took a prominent part in the founding of the New England colonies. The Comte de Pierrefeu's family is one of the oldest in France, and very well known.

Hannay-Young.

The engagement is announced of Miss Elizabeth W. Young, the youngest daughter of Maj. Gen. S. B. M. Young.

Asbury Park Crowded.

Hot Wave Responsible for Record-Breaking Attendance

(Special to The Washington Times.)

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 11.—Just the sort of weather for populating seaside resorts has prevailed this week, to the delight of the hotel men and merchants, who have been kept busy attending to the wants of the record-breaking crowd of patrons, for the resort is now entertaining as many as are usually here in August.

The Fourth of July holiday and the advent of the hot wave is responsible for this congested condition. Thousands of tourists left on Monday morning, but a large proportion of those who came here to spend the holiday by the sea remain. Today's trains from the big cities were crowded with sweltering tourists. Another large over-Sunday crowd can be counted on.

Bathing, canoeing, fishing, driving, and golfing have helped the visitors while away their vacation this week. The bathing was never better, the temperature of the water averaging 68 degrees. Next month the local canoe club will give a series of races for valuable prizes.

There is a likelihood of President Roosevelt visiting Asbury Park this season. It is known that he is to be in this vicinity about the middle of August, and a committee has been appointed by the board of aldermen to invite him to come here on the afternoon of Friday, August 28, and review the great bay parade. The committeemen will urge the President to journey to a town in his domain where the race suicide theory has no advocates, for the procession he will be asked to review will be made up of nearly 1,000 children. Should the invitation be accepted, it is probable that the President will also consent to make a brief address at Ocean Grove.

Sunday school workers from all parts of the land have been here this week attending the School of Methods of the New Jersey Sabbath School Association, of which the Rev. Morris Ferguson, of Trenton, is the leading spirit.

The Spiritual Culture Society is booked for a week's meetings beginning next Tuesday, at the conclusion of the Sunday School Assembly. The secretary of the society, the Rev. Dr. Gilbert, will preach in the auditorium to-morrow evening. The morning sermon will be delivered by Bishop Charles N. Fowler, of Buffalo.

Among the visitors at the shore are John Fay, from Washington, at the Hotel Columbia, and Nellie C. Kennedy at the Hotel Brunswick.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Linderdale are registered at the New Philadelphia, Ocean Grove.

Rosa Ford and Mary G. Talbot, of Richmond, spent the Fourth at Nassau Hall.

George B. Shone, of Washington, is a newcomer at the Hotel Brunswick. Mrs. F. C. Bliss and Mrs. Louis H. Stabler are located for the month of July at the Pittsburg Cottage, Ocean Grove.

Lieutenant Commander W. J. Sears, of the battleship Brooklyn, is with Mrs. Sears at the Ocean Hotel. George S. Williams, another Washington vacationist, is at the Albion.

C. W. Drury, of Washington, accompanied by his wife and daughter, were at the St. James Hotel recently. James B. Henderson is with his family at the Moss Side Villa.

A. F. Fardian, of Washington, is at the Leander.

Mrs. A. W. Geyer, Miss Agnes Geyer, and Mrs. M. C. McKay, of Washington, are located at the Berwin.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Barger and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Allen are registered at the Summerfield, Ocean Grove.

Mrs. R. B. Cate, of Washington, is at Holland Hall.

Miss S. E. Yarges is domiciled at the Piermont.

Mrs. J. H. Alexander, Mrs. George Merriman, and Miss Margaret Savin comprise a trio of Washington vacationists now at the Ashland.

Chit-Chat.

The New Jersey Historical Society has elected President Roosevelt a life member. He is the first President in the United States to be thus honored, although Vice President Hobart was a life member, and Mrs. Hobart, his widow, is one of the honorary vice presidents. United States Senator John F. Dryden is president of the society.

Miss Roosevelt, the daughter of the President, is expected at Newport for the month of August. She will be the guest of Miss Cutting.

Vice Consul General Charles M. Wood, who has been in this country on a leave of absence since last January, will sail on next Saturday for his post at Rome.

H. H. Darnelle left Washington Friday for Atlantic City, where Mrs. Darnelle and her small family have been established since the early summer. Mrs. Darnelle, who has been quite ill recently, is rapidly convalescing.

Gen. Jose Manuel Hernandez, the new Venezuelan minister to this country, is expected to arrive in New York on the 20th. An enthusiastic reception will be accorded him by his fellow-countrymen, a party of whom will meet the minister down the bay and escort him to the Waldorf-Astoria, where a banquet will be given in his honor. Much attention will be showered upon General Hernandez before he comes to Washington.

Miss Isabelle Hagner will leave Washington this week for Long Island, where she will visit Madame di Sibour for several weeks, after which she will spend some time with Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page at York Harbor, Me. The latter part of her outing will be spent with Mrs. Roosevelt at Sagamore Hill.

Mrs. W. S. Kochersperger, of New York, is visiting her son, Capt. S. W. Kochersperger, U. S. A., at Fort Myer.

Mr. and Mrs. Edison H. Morse are again at Chocoma, N. H., and have with them Miss Lella Morse, who made such a brilliant success of her singing, both in New York and Washington, last winter.

Miss Eleanor Terry, daughter of Admiral Terry, has gone to Baltimore, where she will visit friends just outside of the city until the last of August, when, with her parents and brother, she will go to Narragansett Pier for the rest of the summer. Until then Mrs. Terry will remain in Annapolis with the family of Mason Terry.

Lieut. John R. Thomas, Jr., son of former Representative Thomas of Illinois, but who is now Judge Thomas, of Muscogee, I. T., sailed with his regiment, the Seventeenth Infantry, for the Philippines on July 1. Lieutenant Thomas spent all of his childhood in Washington, and has many friends here.

Lieut. John R. Thomas, Jr., son of former Representative Thomas of Illinois, but who is now Judge Thomas, of Muscogee, I. T., sailed with his regiment, the Seventeenth Infantry, for the Philippines on July 1. Lieutenant Thomas spent all of his childhood in Washington, and has many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Adler, 4794 F Street southeast, will be at home this evening from 7 to 10 o'clock, in honor of the confirmation of their son, Herbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Fletcher McVeigh, of Memphis, Tenn., are visiting friends in Washington.

Elliott Woods, superintendent of the Capitol building, and his family are spending a few weeks at Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Wilcox left the city yesterday for the Blue Ridge Mountains, where she will spend the summer with her children.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bradhurst Randall, a niece of Mrs. William Hazard Field, and closely related to a number of old Knickerbocker families in New York, has been engaged by Reginald De Koven for a part in his new opera, "The Red Feather," to be produced in the fall. Mrs. Randall has an unusually sweet and well cultivated voice, and her friends feel assured of her success.

Mrs. Emilie P. Selhausen and family are at "Selsenhorst," their summer home, where they will remain until fall, when they purpose going abroad for the winter.

Ernest Neurath, for many years past a resident of Washington, celebrated the eighty-ninth anniversary of his birthday on Friday last. Mr. Neurath was born at Hesse Darmstadt, Germany, in 1814. He came to this country in 1830, and lived for a short while in Philadelphia. A year later he established himself in business in Baltimore, and for many years conducted one of the largest retail boot and shoe manufacturing establishments in that city. He had a big trade with army officers during the civil war, for whom his factory made great numbers of riding boots, most of the leather for which he imported from France. He retired from business about fifteen years ago, and came to Washington to live.

22 Gen. Walden S. Metcalf, who has been the guest of Col. E. P. Townsend, of Mount Pleasant, for the past ten days, returned to his home in Kansas yesterday. General Metcalf was the recipient of much attention during his visit here.

Miss Flora B. Cabell left the city yesterday for Niagara Falls, and Chautauque, where she will remain until the early fall.

Misses Bessie and Margaret Gibson will spend the next two months in Canada, when they will make a tour of the Great Lakes.

Mrs. H. N. Mathews, of 1321 M Street, has just returned from Richmond, where she has been to attend the funeral of her friend, Mrs. L. H. Miller, who will be remembered as Miss Ella McIntyre, of Washington.

Mrs. William Taylor, of 2726 M Street northwest, has gone to Harper's Ferry to spend a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maberry Everhart.

Mrs. J. M. Carson, Jr., and Miss Carson are at East Gloucester, Mass. Major Carson has been assigned to duty at West Point, N. Y., where his family will join him later in the season.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Macdonald are at Murray Bay, Canada, where they will remain until some time in September.

Judge M. F. Morris, of the Court of Appeals, accompanied by his daughters, the Misses Morris, and his niece, Miss Loretta Hannan, will spend the next three months touring the Northern coasts.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Millidge Hartsfield left Thursday to join a house party of sixteen guests given by Mr. Hartfield's mother at her home near Atlanta, Ga. They expect to remain away a month, stopping at Tybee Beach, Ga., and Old Point Comfort, Va., en route home.

Miss Reinsmith and Miss Mattie Schmidt, the organist of Grace Reformed Church, will leave Tuesday for Boston. They will also visit Portland, Me.; White Mountains, Bar Harbor, and Newport.

Mrs. Thomas R. Martin is spending the summer with her father, Dr. James S. Sweetman, Saratoga county, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Nussbaum of P Street, have returned from Atlantic City.

Mrs. W. H. Barton, of 1309 H Street, left Washington last Friday for Yellowstone Park, where she will visit her son, Capt. Frank A. Barton, of the Third United States Cavalry, who is stationed there. Mrs. Barton will stop for a short time in Chicago, and on her return in the fall will visit her father in Michigan.

St. Ann's Lawn Fete.

A lawn party will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings of this week on the Dumbleton grounds, opposite the rectory. The entertainment is for the benefit of the new Church of St. Ann, now nearing completion. The grounds will be illuminated with Japanese lanterns, and the numerous booths will be attractively decorated. Music and dancing will be included in the number of amusements provided by the committee having the affair in charge.

Summer Resort Gossip.

A lawn tennis tournament will begin at Newport tomorrow, which, it is expected, will determine the question of who is the most skillful woman player at Newport this season. The honors were carried off last season by Mrs. Maud Barger-Wallach, and many look for her to win again this season. She has, however, several formidable rivals in Miss Mary Buek, Miss Edna Barger, and Miss Maud Wetmore. Besides these young women the entries for the tournament are Miss Anita Sands, Miss Mary Sands, Miss Dorothy Potter, and Miss Cynthia Roche. The matches will be arranged on a handicap basis. It is probable Mrs. Wallach, Miss Barger, Miss Wetmore, and Miss Buek will be the scratch players.

Reginald De Koven is expected at Newport shortly, where he will spend most of the summer.

Former Senator Wolcott will have but little to do in entertaining Lady Minto and her daughter, Lady Eileen Elliott, as far as dinners are concerned, as his guests have each night engaged. His

RICH'S SUMMER FOOTWEAR REDUCED.

Twice a year—July and January—we close out all footwear that remains after each season's selling. Keeps this store's stock always up to the minute, and such it must be to retain the leadership.

Offers to you the opportunity to get the most distinctive and exclusive footwear at a splendid saving. Many lines are broken in sizes, but you'll have no trouble in getting your size in some style which is to your liking.

We desire to call attention to the new tan Oxfords for men, made on the fashionable "dead flat" lasts, in blucher and straight laced effects, which is the most stylish footwear of the season; also the new white buckskin and white and gray linen Oxfords with and without rubber soles. The latter are shown in a varied assortment for men, women, misses, and children. The rubber sole Oxfords being adapted splendidly for yachting or tennis wear and for steamship wear as well.

The cleverest ideas in cool footwear are the barfoot sandals for men, women, and children. If you've had trouble elsewhere getting large sizes you'll appreciate the complete line shown here. One matter we desire to speak of to those who are going away for an extended trip. Leave measurements of your feet here before you go, and you may order by mail with the certain assurance that you'll get a correct fit in anything you order. A perfectly equipped mail order department.

Jottings From Abroad.

Senator Chauncey M. Depew was the guest of honor at a dinner given in London last Friday evening by George T. Wilson, of New York. Over fifty Englishmen and Americans were present. Among the guests were Senator Gorman, Consul General Evans, Moberly Bell, Sir Squire Bancroft, Perry Belmont, Colonel Hutchinson of Lord Roberts' staff, Sir Max Maxim, and Reginald Ward.

The past week at Bar Harbor has been the gayest that resort has ever known. On Thursday last a reception was given aboard the Ariadne by Vice Admiral Sir Archibald L. Douglas. The launches of the three English men-of-war made trips back and forth to the shore, and almost every member of the summer colony visited the ship. The band gave a concert on the forward deck.

In the morning the officers of the British fleet and the United States battleship Texas were entertained at breakfast by the Pot and Kettle Club, the officers going up the bay in their launches. In the afternoon Admiral Sands, Captain Swinburne, and Flag Lieutenant Magruder represented the American navy at the English admiral's reception. In the evening Admiral Sands entertained Admiral Douglas and his staff at dinner aboard the Texas.

Harry Garfield, son of the late President James A. Garfield, has arrived, with his family, at his cottage on Hoosier Mountain, in the Northern Berkshires. Mr. Garfield's winter home is now in Cleveland.

Mrs. Choate, wife of the ambassador, gave a large reception at the embassy in London to the thirty officers of the American squadron now in English waters. She was assisted by a number of American young women who are in London for the gay season.

Prince Adelbert, third son of Emperor William, will join the German East Asiatic squadron in October for a year, and will probably return by way of the United States in time to visit the St. Louis Exposition.

The Countess Spottiswood Mackin, who received her title from the Pope, is now at her home, in Rome, for a short stay. She will return to Paris later in the summer, but does not expect to visit America this year.

Conventions Draw Many to Ocean City

(Special to The Washington Times.)

OCEAN CITY, Md., July 11.—The crowd at Ocean City the past week has been unusually large owing to the several conventions which have met here. First came the Surmen's Mutual Benefit Association, followed by the convention of the school teachers of Maryland, and the eighth annual meeting of the Bar Association.

The cottages are filling rapidly and the hotels are booked for the entire season. Among well-known Washingtonians who are here are Mrs. Grace Parker Jennings and son, and Mrs. E. L. Johnson, who have leased Sutton Lodge for the season.

Judge Frank L. Campbell, Assistant Attorney General, and Mrs. Campbell have been stopping for some weeks at the Mount Pleasant. Judge Campbell is rapidly recuperating from a recent attack of typhoid fever.

Swain E. Fox and Mrs. Fox with their daughters, Dorothy and Christine, and sons Frank and Newton, have been here for some time.

The Misses Pauline and Ada Mosely, daughters of General Mosely, are spending their summer at the Pilmhimmon.

Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Baggett are again installed in their cottage and anticipating the arrival of their daughter, Miss Maud Baggett, who is now a guest at a house party in the Adirondacks. Capt. George Pickrell, U. S. N., with Mrs. Pickrell and their children, are also spending the summer at the Pilmhimmon.

A series of golf teas, to be given Saturday afternoons at the Country Club, are being planned by the ladies of the Atlantic.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolf, with a jolly party of friends, have been stopping at the Waverly.

The State Bar Association of Maryland convention will culminate its festivities tonight by an elaborate banquet to be given in the Atlantic Cafe. The pavilion has been artistically decorated, and music will be furnished by the orchestra of the Columbia Theater, of Washington. Menu cards, in the form of deeds, will be presented as souvenirs of the occasion.

Mrs. Charles Leiberhan, accompanied by a party of friends, will spend the month of August at the Atlantic Hotel.

Capt. Willard E. Buell is stopping at the Mount Pleasant with his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Willard E. Buell.

Mrs. Frank Wheaton, widow of Major General Frank Wheaton, is at the Pilmhimmon. Mrs. Wheaton's daughter, Mrs. Frederick K. Morely, of Denver, and Mr. Morely are now with Mrs. Wheaton.
